ABOUT

F Block Second Floor totals 31,000sqft of interconnecting former warehouse space, characterised by a mix of features – heavy industrial piping, ceramic wall tiles, exposed and distressed bricks, and raw concrete floors, all showered with natural light via skylights and warehouse windows. The stock of spaces are primed to host exhibitions, trade shows, filming and photo shoots, product launches and brand focussed events, and can be combined with the event spaces on the floors below to form the ultimate creative event destination in London.

It is why the institution works for beyond the museum's walls, with its public space and also part of the collection. It is why the institution works for beyond the museum's walls, with its public space and also part of the collection.

These approaches might seem to be the mission's goal, but in fact, the institution's mission is to create a platform for urban contemporary art, which has been working nationally and internationally since its foundation and based on the concept of the 'Urban Nation'.

TRANSPORT

F Block and The Truman Brewery have probably the most central Shoreditch location, and are easily reached by bus, rail, tube or on foot.

The venue benefits from close access to all forms of public transport. Liverpool Street and Shoreditch High Street stations are a short distance away, with Aldgate East within easy reach, offering fast connections across London and beyond.
